Principal’s Message

Hi everyone!

Great ways to help your child succeed!

Over the last few weeks some parents have asked about helping their children to succeed. Some basic ways are to encourage your child to read every night. Children who read daily build up a lot of general knowledge that assists with their class work. They also build skills of staying of task for longer periods of time.

Times tables continue to be an essential skill. Those primary aged children who have instant recall of times tables find that their multiplication and division work in class much easier. This is why the primary class have a times table book for homework this term.

Spelling is a skill that improves with practices. Each day at school we complete spelling work, however good practice at home assists in the learning of sound combinations and basic words. Children who take the time to practice their words at home are more successful in spelling. This can be just asking the child to spell each word at home. Spelling lists are sent home each week.

Permission note and payment for “A Fish Outta Water” was due last Friday. If you wish for your children to attend please return note and payment by this Friday as numbers attending need to be confirmed with Leeville School. Class will be as normal for those students not attending.

Due to the lack of parents/community participation at the last P&C Meeting, we were unable to approve any uniform subsidy for 2016 or any other subsidies or donations.

This affects your children!

We need your attendance and participation at the Rappville P&C meetings in order for the P&C to continue.
